

Blue Ridge Heritage Project Update – October, 2016

Greene County News

The Greene County BRHP Committee will be dedicating the Greene County Temporary Memorial. This will take place at 3 pm. today, Wednesday, October 26 (sorry for the late notice). The ceremony will take place at the site of the future permanent monument next to the Greene County Administration Building, at the corner of Main St. and Celt Rd. in Stanardsville, across Celt Rd. from the Stanardsville town hall.

Come to the dedication if you can, and watch for construction of the permanent monument to begin in the near future.

Fund Raising Dance in Page County

The Page County BRHP committee is holding a fund raising dance on Saturday, October 29 at the Luray Fire Department from 8-midnight. The band, Souled Out will be featured. Beverages will be sold at the dance. Must be 21 to attend. Tickets are available at Shenandoah Moon in Luray, Southern Accents in Shenandoah, and Shenandoah General Store in Shenandoah. $15 in advance or $20 at the door. All proceeds will benefit the Blue Ridge Heritage Project of Page County.

Albemarle County monument dedication

November 5 is the dedication of the completed Albemarle County BRHP monument. This event will take place at 1:00 at the Patricia A. Byrom Nature Preserve Park, located at 6610 Blackwells Hollow Rd., Crozet, VA 22932. Plan to join the Albemarle community in celebrating the completion of this monument dedicated to the people of the Blue Ridge Mountains who lost their homes and land for the creation of Shenandoah National Park.

BRHP Website

Visit the Blue Ridge Heritage Project's website to learn more about BRHP activities and events, as well as to see photos and information about the Project. There is a library of news articles and links to media coverage on the BRHP, and each of the eight counties has a page where county events and news are posted. Webmistress Teresa Lam is constantly updating information on the website and she is looking for photos to post.

An important part of the website is the on-line donation feature. With the click of a button – well, of several buttons – you may make a donation to the BRHP as a whole or you can designate your donation to support a particular county's committee.

The website is at BlueRidgeHeritageProject.com. Check back frequently to see the updates and changes.
